MIDIR was implemented in three steps following logical phases: Building-up knowledge, networking, communication and dissemination and project management. The steps are represented by four work packages (WPs):